FAREWELL, MASSEY KNAKAL

As most of you already know, today is my last day as the Public Relations Director of Massey Knakal Realty Services. On November 3 I will be leaving this wonderful city to become a full-time resident of Houston, TX.

Having been the author of Green Pastures since its inception in September 2006, I'm lucky enough to be able to provide my good-bye here rather than via email. Depending, of course, that you opened this file!

Four and a half years ago I walked into the old East 41st Street office a little younger, a lot blonder and with little clue as to what was expected of me. I leave today with brown hair (as God intended) and a sense of pride that what started out as a job turned into a career, and in many ways blessed me with an extended family. For that, I thank you.

This position afforded me the chance to be one of few people working here who was able to interact with all employees in all offices. I hope you had as much fun as I did. Our working together resulted in nearly 3,000 printed articles since June of 2004.

A lot has changed through the years, as evidenced by these pictures. Just remember, be yourself when presenting yourself to the public and never underestimate the power of the press.

Good-bye everyone.
